BOARD & MEMBERS ACTIVITIES

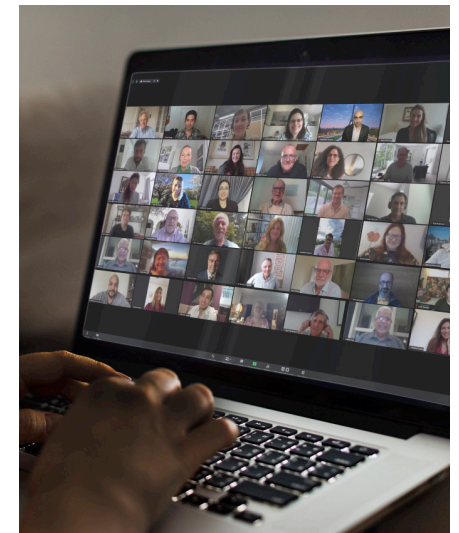

Connect at events worldwide and online

The International Academy of Television Arts & Sciences organizes a number of high-level business, networking and social events for Members throughout the world.

Board & Members Meetings take place three to four times a year and offer Members the opportunity to meet with their international peers.

Members also have access to M+ Lounge and M+ Virtual, spaces for Members and their guests to connect with old friends or make new ones. M+ Lounge is open whenever the Academy has a presence at industry events and conferences around the world. M+ Virtual allows Members to join online to meet with one another and hear from a guest speaker or two.

SHOWCASE AND INSPIRE

Host a Semi-Final Round of Judging Event

Each year, from June to September, the Academy travels to over 30 judging sites for Semi-Final Judging events. These events are hosted by Academy Members and determine the International Emmy® Award Nominees. Semi-Final events are not only a crucial step in the judging process, but are also a great networking opportunity for the Host and Jurors invited to participate in the competition. Depending on the Host, events range from small one day events to large gatherings over two days with press conferences, cocktails and cultural visits added on to the judging panels.

ACCESS NEW WORLDS

Explore global television

Academy Day is a high-level, by-invitation only four day event designed to shine a spotlight on the culture and media industry of a specific region. The event helps foster a better understanding of regional business models and cultural institutions to help facilitate cross border collaboration.

It is a customized event hosted by an Academy Partner that offers Members an exclusive opportunity to take a deep-dive into the television industry of a specific region and network with the leading executives and officials of that region. Members and their guests attend a combination of industry specific panels and keynotes and visit cultural landmarks.

Previous Academy Days have taken place in Istanbul, Beijing, Rio de Janeiro, Jerusalem, Hong Kong & Shenzhen, and Mexico City.

YOUR BUSINESS, YOUR WORLD

International Emmy® Awards Gala and International Emmy® World Television Festival

Each year, the leading television producers from around the world showcase their programming and compete to be recognized at the prestigious International Emmy® Awards, traditionally held in New York City with over 800 international broadcasting, production and distribution executives convening to celebrate the best in global television. The International Academy presents 2 Special Awards, as well as Emmys across 16 categories.

The International Emmy® World Television Festival takes place the weekend before the International Emmy® Awards and is the only place where one can watch all the nominated programs, meet the creators, and attend a variety of special events with key members of the global television community. The Festival is an invite-only event and open to all International Academy Members.
